Lateral Entry Patrol Officer Minimum Qualifications

This additional pay and/or vacation is not effective until the officer successfully completes their probationary period with the Rhineland Police Department.

The Hiring Process

The Rhinelander Police Department selection process is a fair and equitable competition that results in the best candidates being offered employment. The amount of time required to complete all stages of the process varies according to the needs of the Department and anticipated start dates.

The following describes the steps in our police officer hiring process:

1. Application for employment: The application may be obtained by requesting one from the Rhinelander Police Department (715) 365-5300, or on our website www.rhinelanderpd.com. Applications are screened for completeness and minimum qualifications.
2. Written Examination: Following a review of your employment application form and preliminary background investigation to ensure minimum requirements are met, you may be invited to take a written exam. This exam will measure a variety of proficiencies necessary to be a police officer.
3. Physical Abilities Test: Those candidates who advance in the hiring process will be asked to participate in a physical abilities test.
4. Department Panel Interviews: An oral interview and oral testing phase will be administered by members of the Rhinelander Police Department. The interviews are focused on competencies required for a policing career as well as your suitability to fit within our organization. This information is used to assess how you likely will perform on the job as a police officer.
5. Ride-Along: A group of applicants may be selected to continue in the selection process by completing a ride-along with a Sergeant.
6. Police and Fire Commission Interview: The Police and Fire Commission is comprised of appointed members of the community. Candidates will have a personal interview with the Rhinelander Police and Fire Commission.
7. Background Investigation: A thorough and detailed background investigation is completed on the top candidate who successfully passes the Police and Fire Commission Interview. When completing the background investigation forms, it is critical that you provide honest, complete and accurate information.
8. Conditional Offers of Employment: A condition of employment with the Rhinelander Police Department is the successful completion of the psychological examination, medical examination, and drug test.
9. Final Offer of Employment: Final offers of employment are made and candidates are notified of a tentative start date.

The Physical Ability Test

The physical ability test is a non-discriminatory, systematic exam with standards that have to be met. The physical ability test is administered to all police applicants as part of the total selection process. The purpose of the test is to determine if an applicant has attained the minimum physical fitness level required for the position of police officer.

The physical ability test consists of a series of job related activities designed to evaluate physical capabilities. In addition, exercises are suggested that will assist you in preparing for each test. It is recommended that applicants begin preparing for this prior to it being administered. The amount of preparation depends on the physical condition of the individual. Superior performance in all areas will be considered as an overall factor in our competitive process.

1.5 Mile Run- Weather Permitting (This test measures aerobic capacity or cardio respiratory fitness.)

An applicant will run a distance of 1.5 miles as fast as possible. During the administration of the test, the applicants will be informed of their lap times. The applicants finish times will be called out and recorded. Upon completion of the test, a mandatory cool down period will be enforced. The applicants should walk slowly for about 5 minutes.

15:00 minutes will be the acceptable time limit for the test.

Job Relatedness. Police Officers must pursue fleeing suspects often times for a sustained period of time. Police Officers must be capable of using force for extended periods of time.

Test Preparation. Interval Training (speed training)

Obstacle Course. In lieu of 1.5 Mile Run in the event of inclement weather. This test item consists of running a prescribed course of one-quarter (1/4) mile while negotiating through and around physical barriers. An applicant will scale a six (6) foot fence, run around three (3) cones, climb under an 18 inch high bar, and leap a five (5) foot long prescribed area. This test must be completed in under three minutes and thirty seconds. This test simulates a foot pursuit.

Job relatedness. Police officers must pursue fleeing suspects and perform rescue operations which may involve quickly entering and exiting squad cars; climbing over and pulling one's self over obstacles through openings (doors and windows); jumping from elevated surfaces, over ditches and streams; crawling in confined areas; balancing on uneven or narrow spaces and using body force to gain entrance through barriers.

Test Preparation. Run short shuttle sprints, practice running with hurdles

One Minute Push Up Test- (This test measures muscular endurance of the upper body.)

An applicant will place hands slightly wider than shoulder width apart, with fingers pointing forward. The administrator places one fist on the floor below the subject's chest. If a male is testing a female, a 3 inch sponge should be placed under the sternum to substitute for the fist. The feet cannot be braced against the wall. Starting from the up position the applicant must keep back straight at all times and lower the body to the floor until the chest touches the administrator's fist. Resting should be done only in the up position. Both hands must remain in contact with the floor at all times. No piking or arching is allowed at any time; the back must be kept straight. The total number of correct push ups in one minute is recorded as the score. A minimum of 25 pushups will be the acceptable standard.

Job Relatedness. Police Officers must push, pull, crawl, lift, and carry different things, objects, and subjects while performing their duties.

Test Preparation. Resistance training (progressive use of resistance)

One Minute Sit Up Test- (This test measures abdominal muscular endurance.)

The applicant starts by lying on their back with their knees bent, feet flat on the floor, with fingers interlaced and held behind the head. The buttocks must remain on the floor with no thrusting of the hips. A partner holds the feet down firmly using their hands. In the up position, the applicant should touch elbows to knees and then return until the shoulder blades touch the floor. Any resting should be done in the up position. The neck remains in the neutral position and applicants shouldn't pull on the head or neck. A minimum of 32 sit ups will be the acceptable standard.

Job Relatedness. Police Officers must use core abdominal strength while pulling, pushing, dragging, lifting, carrying, or using force for sustained amounts of time.

Test Preparation. Sit ups, resistance training.

Vertical Jump Test- (This test measures jumping or explosive power.)

Applicant should stand with one side toward the wall and reach up as high as possible to mark their reach on the yardstick. Applicant then jumps as high as possible and marks the spot on the wall above their standard reach mark. Prior to the jump, one foot must remain stationary on the floor. The applicants score is the difference between the standard reach and top of the jump mark, to the nearest ½ inch. The best of three trials is the score. A minimum of 15.5 inches will be the acceptable standard.

Job Relatedness. Police Officers must often jump, vault, or dodge while performing their duties.

Test Preparation. Squats, jumping exercises

Candidates taking the physical agility examination are required to furnish their own physical fitness attire and towel. The recommended clothing includes tennis shoes, sweat shirt or T-shirt, shorts, sweat pants, or a running suit.

Should the applicant fail any one of the events, the entire test must be retaken. One additional attempt may be given after a failure.
